

Social and Personal

THE official New Year's reception was held by Governor and Mrs. Mann in the Executive Mansion last night, and the parties were thrown with guests from 9 to 11 o'clock. The Governor received with Mrs. Mann and the members of his staff in the blue room, which was decorated for the occasion in smilax, running cedar and poinsettias. Mrs. Mann wore a very handsome gown of gold-colored satin, with an overskirt of Spanish lace. She wore diamond ornaments and carried a bouquet of orchids. Mrs. Thomas Branch McAdams wore a black satin gown, trimmed in Duchesse lace, veiled in marquisette. Mrs. Andrew Gray was gowned in black satin and trimmed in Eastern embroidery. Her flowers were orchids.

In the main drawing room, running cedar and holly decorated the walls and draped the doorways and windows and a vase of American Beauty roses ornamented the dining room table. Holly and cedar also draped the doorways of the dining room and hall, and poinsettias were used in the library.

Luncheon at Meadow Brook.

One of the handsomest affairs of the holidays was the buffet luncheon given at "Meadow Brook," the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Jefferson, in Chesterfield county, yesterday. The Jefferson home is admirably suited for entertaining, and the entire lower floor was thrown open to the guests. The walls were hung in Southern smilax, with wall pockets of crimson flowers, and quantities of holly and running cedar were used in the dining room. The silver vases of red flowers decorated the hall, and a garland of cedar and poinsettias wound the balustrade of the stairway.

Mrs. Jefferson received with her niece, Miss Louise Virginia Hinkins, and were an imported gown of gold-colored satin, veiled in black chiffon, with touches of black about the neck. Miss Hinkins wore a gown of blue velvet, embroidered in black. Mrs. J. Cloyd Kent and Misses Sadie and Walter Jefferson presided at the punch bowl.

About a hundred and fifty guests were included in the invitations.

Crump.

Judge and Mrs. Beverly Tucker Crump have sent out cards for the marriage of their daughter, Courtney Taylor, to Richard Turner Pratt, of the Northern Neck section of Virginia. The ceremony will take place very quietly at the home of the bride's parents, 394 East Grace Street, on Wednesday evening, January 25. A small reception will follow the ceremony.

Of Interest Here.

The Alexander German Club gave its New Year's german Friday night in the Elks' Hall of that city. The hall was decorated in American flags, palms and holly, and supper was served at midnight. James S. Douglas, Jr., led dancing with Miss Elizabeth Gaines, of Warrenton, Va. Miss Gaines was shortly visited by relatives in Richmond. Miss Dora Taylor, of this city, was also among those dancing on that occasion.

Miss Bigger Entertains.

Miss Madeline Russell Bigger entertained a number of her friends who were in town for the holidays at her home on West Grace Street last week. The parlors were prettily arranged in holly and mistletoe, and some of Miss Bigger's guests on this occasion included: Misses Sara Oppenheimer, Margaret Miller, Catherine Gordon, Margaret Freeman, Ellen Scott, Carter Ingram, Messrs. Curry Thomas, Walter Williams, Randolph Wellford, John Pemberton, Nelson Ingram, Palmer Stacy and Lewis Stacy.

Visiting in Emporia.

Mrs. L. L. Jennings left town last week to visit friends and relatives in Emporia and Borley, Va. Mrs. Jennings will later be the guest of her sister in North Carolina before returning to this city.

At the Woman's Club.

The inauguration of the musical tea at the Woman's Club yesterday afternoon was a tremendous success. The club was most attractive in its holiday decorations of cedar and holly, and bright red bells hung from all the chandeliers and doorways. The guests were seated at small tables scattered through the rooms with a charming air of informality, and the program arranged for the afternoon was unusually good.
